LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

October 2013

The Governor's Office of Planning and Research (OPR) is pleased to announce the release of the 2012 Annual Planning Survey Results. OPR's Annual Planning Survey is distributed to all cities and counties in the State and provides the latest information on local planning activities, the status of city and county General Plans, and an important local perspective on issues of statewide concern.

This edition features a summary presentation of the results of the 2012 Annual Planning Survey. The Appendices display the response from each individual jurisdiction. This year's survey shows that the state's cities and counties continue to be active in a number of policy fronts, including climate change, land use, and energy efficiency and renewable energy development.

- Seventy percent of this year's respondents are implementing programs or policies to address climate change.
- A majority of cities and counties are using tools to support high-density, mixed-use, and transit-oriented development.
- Nearly sixty percent of respondents have programs in place to increase energy efficiency of municipal buildings. And, one quarter of respondents have solar permitting ordinances to support development of small-scale solar systems.

OPR has conducted The Annual Planning Survey each year for decades, allowing evaluation of trends over time. In addition, the on-going high response rate by local governments makes the Survey an important tool for those interested in land use planning and trends in local government policy. Responses to the survey aid OPR and state agencies in the development of tools and guidance for local government. The survey highlights areas of progress, challenges to implementation of specific policies, and the helps to identify areas of local leadership.

Over the coming months, OPR will utilize the Annual Planning Survey results in providing services and guidance, including analyses that examine specific topics over time and across regions. We will post these additional analyses on OPR's website (www.opr.ca.gov), where you can also find results from previous years' surveys.

We appreciate the time and effort of all the cities and counties in completing the Annual Planning Survey. We hope that the Survey is useful, and welcome comments and suggestions on how it can be most effective and informative.

Sincerely,

Ken Alex

ABOUT THE SURVEY

Every year, the Governor's Office of Planning and Research (OPR) distributes a survey to the planning directors of each of the state's cities and counties. This survey is designed to provide up to date information on the status of each city and county's General Plan including recent updates and optional elements that have been completed. The survey also explores policies and programs that are being implemented by the cities and counties, barriers that they face, resources in place and that are needed, and other functional aspects of the planning departments. All Appendices referenced in the report are available on the OPR website (www.opr.ca.gov).

The 2012 Survey was conducted from October 2012 through December 2012. The survey is distributed electronically and can be completed on-line or in hard copy.

The responses from the survey are used to help inform the work of OPR and other state agencies as they develop guidance and tools for local governments. The results are made available each year on OPR's website and more detailed information, if needed, can be obtained directly from OPR.

INTRODUCTION

The Annual Planning Survey (APS) tracks important trends and policy development at the local level in California. The survey is designed to gain a better understanding the relationship between local actions and statewide goals. The 2012 Annual Planning Survey asked a series of questions in the following seven areas:

- Land Use Planning
- Climate Change
- Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency
- Transportation
- Water
- Outreach and Communication
- Tools and Funding for Local Planning

The responses to the survey help to inform state policies, tools, and guidance, especially as the state prepares to meet its long-term goals. As the state plans for the future, the state's cities and counties play an important role in developing and implementing innovative policies. Over the past five years, the questions addressed in the survey have evolved to reflect the state's goals and progress toward meeting those goals.

Looking to the Future

As California looks to a future with 50 million people, the state needs to accommodate population and economic growth while meeting the state's environmental goals. Cities and counties will be central to this effort through their actions on land use planning, energy development, transportation, climate change, and other cross-cutting issues.

Land use planning decisions at the local level need to prioritize infill development, access to transit and other alternatives to driving, and other policies that support healthy, livable communities. The majority of cities and counties are using tools to incentivize more compact, mixed-use, and transit-oriented development. Nearly half of respondents to this year's survey have adopted a bicycle master plan for the city or county. The majority of respondents have set goals for open space and for their residents. Since 2008, the Annual Planning Survey has shown that programs to support this type of development are increasingly in use and that local governments are engaged in regional efforts to support the integration of transportation and land use planning.

Cities and counties are also taking steps to support renewable energy, increase energy efficiency, and reduce GHG emissions. The 2012 survey shows that nearly a quarter of respondents have general plan policies in place to facilitate the development of small-scale renewable or distributed energy systems. And, 25% have a solar permitting ordinance to support development of small-scale solar systems and over four in ten have incorporated complete streets into the circulation element of the general plan.

Cities and counties are taking steps to reduce energy use from municipal buildings and vehicles. Nearly 60% have programs in place to increase energy efficiency in municipal buildings. One-quarter of respondents have adopted programs to encourage the use of plug-in electric vehicles in the municipal fleet. These programs do not come at the expense of programs to encourage energy efficiency and PEV use in the community, but are generally occurring in higher numbers (28% for community building efficiency programs and 21% for encouraging PEV adoption in the community. These programs compliment growing efforts to reduce GHG emissions (see inset).

Cities and counties are also showing high levels of integrated, regional, and cross-sectoral planning that will be critical for meeting long-term goals. In 2007, the survey showed that the overwhelming majority of cities and counties were participating in regional planning efforts. The 2012 survey shows that this coordination exists over a broad range of topics and efforts. Over half of cities and counties are working with local school districts on school siting and including considerations of school municipal programs and policies. Many are working with regional agencies on transportation planning, watershed planning, habitat restoration and a number of other issues.

Respondents continue to face barrier to infill development. Respondents to the 2012 survey indicated that lack of funding was the largest barrier, which represented a shift from 2011, when infrastructure constraints were the most often-cited barrier.

Finally, the 2012 survey shows that cities and counties continue to take innovative steps to support their planning efforts. The vast majority of respondents have received funding from outside sources to support from federal, state, and private partners to support planning efforts. Respondents to the 2012 survey also had the opportunity to share innovative programs that they have developed in their community. These include programs to support the

Issue Highlight: Climate Change Activity at the Local Level

One area where there has been a noticeable upward trend is in the number of cities and counties adopting or being in the process of adopting climate change policies. Since 2008, the number of jurisdictions responding to the survey that are addressing climate change has more than tripled. In 2008, fifty three respondents indicated that they are taking steps to address climate change. In this year's survey over 170 respondents have policies or programs in place to address global warming.

The majority of the jurisdictions taking steps to address climate change are focusing on reducing greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions, rather than preparing for impacts. In 2012, 36% of respondents were taking steps to address the impacts of climate change. Nonetheless, this number suggests an increase from 2010, when only 29 responding jurisdictions (of 462) indicated that they were addressing climate change impacts in their hazard mitigation plan.

arts, development of green space, and health and wellness.

The remainder of this document reports the aggregated responses to all of the questions included in the 2012 Annual Planning Survey. The responses, shown by jurisdiction, are included in the appendices, which are organized by topic.

A. RESPONDENTS AND RESPONSE RATE

48% of cities and 60% of counties in California responded to the 2012 Annual Planning Survey. Together, this amounts to 258 jurisdictions, or 48% of local governments in the state of California. See Appendix I for the jurisdictions that responded to the survey.

	Cities	Counties	Total
Responding Jurisdictions	229	29	258
Total Jurisdictions	482	58	540

2012 Annual Planning Survey Response Rate for Cities and Counties

B. LAND USE PLANNING

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix B.

Q1. Has your agency employed any of the following tools to promote infill, transit-oriented development, mixed, or higher-density development? (213 respondents)

Q2. How serious have the following barriers been to your jurisdiction's efforts to implement infill development? (255 respondents)

Q3. Has your jurisdiction adopted park and open space standards that include any of the following? (255 respondents)

Q4. Has your jurisdiction adopted an Urban Forestry Management Plan? (255 respondents)

Yes	9%
No	85.5%
Don't Know	5.5%

For the years that jurisdictions last updated their Forestry Management Plans, see Appendix B. Of the 17 jurisdictions that provided this information, the most recent update was done by Oroville in 2012, while the last to update was Lompoc in 1991. The median year of update was 2001.

Q4a. If yes, is the Urban Forestry Management Plan referenced in any of the following? (14 respondents)

Q5. Does your jurisdiction work with school districts to ensure that school siting, capital improvement decisions (including closures), and operational policies align with general plans, regional transportation plans (RTPs), sustainable communities strategies, or other local plans? (253 respondents)

Q5a. If yes, how is that coordination accomplished? (152 respondents)

Q6. Does your jurisdiction have any of the following policies related to school siting and development? (243 respondents)

Q7. Does your jurisdiction have any of the following health-related policies in place?
(243 respondents)

Q8. Does your jurisdiction undertake joint planning efforts in any of the following contexts? (243 respondents)

C. CLIMATE CHANGE

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix C.

Q9. Please indicate whether your jurisdiction is served by a public or investor-owned utility for the following services. (243 respondents)*

	Municipal Utility	Investor-owned Utility	Special District	Other
Water delivery	61%	21%	31%	4%
Electricity	15%	75%	5%	9%

*Note that jurisdictions were able to select all options that describe their situation, so percentages may not add to 100 percent.

Q10. Has your jurisdiction adopted, or is it in the process of adopting policies and/or programs to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions? (243 respondents)

Q10a. If yes, what form do these policies take? (166 respondents)

Q10b. If yes, do these policies address: (171 respondents)

Q11. Is your jurisdiction actively addressing adaptation (i.e., preparing for the impacts of climate change)? (243 respondents)

Q11a. If yes, what form do these actions take? (84 respondents)

Q12. If language related to climate change and GHG emissions had been included in your General Plan, please identify which elements discuss these issues. (243 respondents)

Q13. Does your jurisdiction have measures in place to ensure the implementation of climate policies? (243 respondents)

Q13a. If yes, what form do these measures take? (70 respondents)

Q14. Is your jurisdiction working with other jurisdictions either to reduce GHG emissions (i.e., mitigation) or to plan for impacts of climate change (i.e., adaptation)? (242 respondents)

Q14a. If yes, please indicate what form this collaboration is taking. (123 respondents)

D. RENEWABLE ENERGY AND ENERGY EFFICIENCY

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix D.

Q15. Has your jurisdiction adopted standards above the CalGreen Building Codes for new buildings? (242 respondents)

Q15a. If yes, what tier has it adopted? (58 respondents)

Q16. Has your jurisdiction adopted policies or programs to reduce energy use in existing buildings? (242 respondents)

For narrative responses describing what these programs are, by jurisdiction, please refer to Appendix D. Many of the programs described are incentives provided to the jurisdictions by their utilities. Many jurisdictions are also requiring retrofits for their public buildings, and many are also building new ideas in this area into their General Plans.

Q17. Does your jurisdiction require the disclosure of building energy use information at the time of re-sale? (241 respondents)

Yes	0%
No	90%
Don't know	10%

Q18. Has your jurisdiction adopted programs, policies, or ordinances to facilitate the development of small-scale renewable energy systems or distributed energy systems? (241 respondents)

Q19. Has your jurisdiction taken any of the following steps to streamline permitting for small-scale renewable energy systems that provide electricity and/or hot water for on-site use? (241 respondents)

Q20. Has your jurisdiction adopted programs, policies or ordinances that govern development of commercial renewable energy systems on land zoned for agriculture; land designated as prime, important or unique farmland; or land under Williamson Act contract? (241 respondents)

Yes	5%
No	91%
Don't know	4%

For narrative descriptions of these policies, programs, and ordinances by jurisdiction, please refer to Appendix D.

E. TRANSPORTATION

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix E.

Q21. Has your jurisdiction taken any of the following steps to become plug-in electric vehicle (PEV) ready? (241 respondents)

Q22. To help track development of PEV infrastructure, can you indicate the number of building permits issued for privately owned EV chargers and EV chargers installed at municipal facilities? (187 respondents)

Building permits issued for privately owned EV chargers in 2011

Number of EV chargers installed in municipal facilities in 2011

Q23. Has your jurisdiction projected the number of PEVs expected in your jurisdiction at some future point? (241 respondents)

Q23b. If yes, how many vehicles (or share of the fleet) do you project being PEVs by your horizon year? (11 respondents)

Of the 11 jurisdictions that responded to this question, 5 jurisdictions (Belmont, Fremont, Napa, Villa Park, and Yountville) project 5 vehicles or fewer in their municipal fleet to be PEVs by their horizon years. 3 jurisdictions (Cathedral City, Riverside, and Santa Ana) project that they will have 10 PEVs in their municipal fleet by the horizon year, and San Diego predicts that they will have 12 PEVs in their municipal fleet by their horizon year. Only two jurisdictions have predicted the number of PEVs in their community by their horizon date. Claremont predicts that there will be 550 PEVs in their community by that time, and San Diego predicts that their community will have 15,000 PEVs by that time.

Q24. Has your jurisdiction “modified the circulation element to plan for a balanced, multimodal transportation network that meets the needs of all users of streets, roads, and highways...” (Government Code 65303(b)(2)(A)? (241 respondents)?

Q25. Has your jurisdiction adopted any of the following? (241 respondents)

Q26. Has your jurisdiction adopted pedestrian or bicycle infrastructure standards that include requirements in the following areas? (241 respondents)

F. WATER

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix F.

Q27. Does your agency use the California Water Plan as a resource in the following activities? (241 respondents)

Q28. Has your jurisdiction adopted programs and/or policies to improve water use efficiency? (241 respondents)

Q28a. If yes, what form have these programs and policies taken? (182 respondents)

Q29. Does your jurisdiction have a jurisdiction-wide water management plan that combines capital investment or maintenance issues in the following areas? (237 respondents)*

*Note that jurisdictions were able to select each of the options that describe their situation, so percentages do not add to 100 percent.

Q30. Has your jurisdiction participated in a regional water planning process? (237 respondents)

Yes, participated in the Integrated Regional Water Management Plan process	52%
Yes, participated in another regional water management plan	33%
No, our jurisdiction has not participated in any regional water planning processes	26%

G. PUBLIC OUTREACH AND COMMUNICATION

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix G.

Q31. Does your jurisdiction distribute materials in languages other than English? (237 respondents)

For narrative responses by jurisdictions describing how the languages materials are distributed in are selected, refer to Appendix G. Most jurisdictions determine which languages in which to distribute materials by looking at census information on which languages are most commonly spoken in their area.

Q32. What are the primary distribution points for information and materials regarding planning decisions in your jurisdiction? (236 respondents)

Q33. Does your jurisdiction engage with any of the following venues as a way to inform the public about upcoming planning issues? (199 respondents)

H. TOOLS AND FUNDING FOR LOCAL PLANNING

For responses from each jurisdiction, see Appendix H.

Q34. Has your jurisdiction received grants for planning and development activities in the last three years? (236 respondents)

Q34a. If yes, please indicate the source and use of those grant(s) in the table below. (160 respondents)

Q35. Does your jurisdiction have geospatial parcel-level data? (236 respondents)

Q35a. If yes, what information is contained in those data? (170 respondents)

Q36. How helpful are the following types of assistance from the Governor's Office of Planning and Research (OPR)? (230 respondents)

Q37. In what way(s) can OPR best assist your office in the work that it is doing?

Jurisdictions generally responded that they would like more guidance on how to comply with state laws, through methods such as providing model ordinances/best practices information and hosting free webinars. They also express a desire for OPR to help them to expedite the CEQA process. For a complete list of the feedback provided, refer to Appendix H.

Q38. Are there particularly innovative and/or effective programs, policies, or zoning strategies in place in your jurisdiction that you would like to share with OPR and that were not covered in this survey?

While some jurisdictions expressed difficulty in implementing new programs due to economic constraints, many continue to create innovative new policies. A sampling of these include (but are not limited to): an Agriculture Overlay Zone to encourage agritourism and local agribusiness in Butte County, a new Public Safety District for community facilities in Coachella, a Public Art Ordinance in Emeryville, a Cost Energy and Service Action Plan in Inyo County, smart phone application visualization tools in Redwood City, a Pavement to Parks program in San Francisco, and a Green Business Certification Program in Thousand Oaks. For a complete listing of the innovative new programs jurisdictions have reported that they are working on, see Appendix H.

Q16. Has your jurisdiction adopted policies or programs to reduce energy use in existing buildings?

Q16a. If yes, please explain what these policies and/or programs are, and the status of the program implementation.

Jurisdiction	Policies to reduce energy			Description of these programs/policies and implementation
	Municipal	Community	None
Alameda County	+	+		Sustainability and Energy Division in the County General Services Agency implements the strategic vision that include many policies and programs. The County's internal and community CAPs contain measures to promote retrofitting existing buildings to improve energy efficiency. Implementation of the internal CAP is underway. Implementation of the community CAP begins in 2013.

Wheatland	+	+		8.G.1. In addition to the energy regulations of Title 24, the City shall encourage the energy efficiency of new development. Possible energy efficient design techniques include: provisions for solar access; building siting to maximize natural heating and cooling; and landscaping to aid passive cooling and protection from winter winds. 8.G.2. The City shall encourage the planting of shade trees along all City streets to reduce radiation heating. 8.G.3. The City shall coordinate with local utility providers to promote public education energy conservation programs. 8.G.4. The City will promote local and State programs that strive to reduce the consumption of natural or manmade energy sources. 8.G.5. The City shall ensure that new development incorporates open space areas that provide community and neighborhood identity and insulate conflicting land uses and noise generators.

Santa Ana	+			City staff reports, agendas and Parke and Recreation quarterly brochures are in English. The majority of Citywide outreach for larger policy efforts (general plan update) is in English and Spanish given our citywide demographics; in some cases it is trilingual with Vietnamese. If a planning project is proposed in area known to have a concentration of Vietnamese speaking residents, we will publicize outreach flyers in Vietnamese.
Santa Barbara	+			Spanish is largest second language group in Santa Barbara
Santa Barbara County	+			Predominant need
Santa Cruz	+			Santa Cruz's population has two main languages spoken Spanish and English
Santa Rosa	+			Most of our translation is into Spanish.

Q37. In what ways(s) can OPR best assist your office in the work that it is doing?

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Angels Camp	I think OPR should do a better job of keeping local jurisdictions up to date with State legislation and its impact on our bottom line.
Auburn	For next year's survey, if you use the same questions as this year's survey, retain and provide for the responding jurisdictions use their answers to the prior year's survey. It could/would save time in completing the survey.
Azusa	Provide model ordinances that achieve State objectives in cases such as greenhouse gas emission reduction goals.
Banning	Laws that affect land use/environmental planning.
Bellflower	Provide better guidance for State Laws. Provide free webinars.
Benicia	Come meet with us to describe how we can be more competitive for grant funding
Burbank	Demonstrate support for projects, plans, programs, initiatives, etc. that cities are considering that advance the goals and policies had at the state level. For example, when City is considering adoption of a CAP or GGRP or event a GP update, OPR should show their support for the efforts of the local jurisdiction.
Butte County	Reduce need to send paper or CD copies and go electronic for all document distributions.
Calabasas	Please find ways to reduce the amount and complexity of state mandates affecting local governments, especially RHNA
Calaveras County	being available for 1 on 1 communication regarding an issue specific to our jurisdiction. OPR has done this for us in the past; VERY helpful
Coachella	Be an advocate for streamlining Housing Elements with HCD.
Colton	Highlight best practices in California (ordinances, general plan policies, specific plans, etc) for local governments to use as models.
Commerce	Technical Advisories, training/special events, grant training and assistance
Cotati	Timely releases of information detailing legislative changes which affect land use, zoning and environmental regulations.
Dinuba	My above answers to Q. 36 are only in reference to the fact that I do not use OPR services on a regular basis. I cannot say whether the services are helpful or not.
Emeryville	Keep publishing great reference documents like State Planning and Zoning Laws, General Plan Guidelines, State CEQA Guidelines, etc. Provide easy summary of state level land use and CEQA updates that would be helpful for local jurisdictions, and make it easy to find on the website. Link state PV/solar goal to SB375/SCS goals.

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Glendale	Here are three suggestions for OPR assistance/support for legislation. 1) We are looking forward to the 2013 General Plan Guidelines update. Glendale doesn't have money to do a comprehensive update to our General Plan and we lost 45% of Community Development Staff in September 2012. Our only choice to update our General Plan is by doing Community Plans that we can do in-house with limited resources. It would be VERY helpful to have guidance included in the General Plan Guidelines or through Planning Guides to talk about using Community Plans as tools for updating General Plans and by providing a list of free online resources that can be used. SCAG has some great information related to housing element updates--so a similar source of information for General Plan requirements by element would be very useful. 2) OPR can support the need for a CEQA statutory exemption for updating General Plans where density increases are necessary to comply with RHNA goals that includes exemptions for road widening infrastructure necessary to accommodate those units. We also need CEQA exemptions to implement CAP policies--such as green streets, road diets, creation of transportation streets and bike/ped streets, etc... necessary to implement SB 375. CEQA to comply with State mandates costs cities hundreds of thousands for special studies and environmental review. We just don't have public money to pay for CEQA review. Glendale wants to implement our CAP, Greener Glendale sustainability policies, TOD transportation improvements, and housing densities that allow us to meet RHNA and affordable housing goals. Cities need statutory exemptions in CEQA to allow us to adopt these policies and programs without spending a fortune in public money on CEQA review and CEQA challenges. 3) OPR support is also needed for identifying/creating some new recreational standards for parklands. Given the built-out nature of Glendale and other urban cities and the Housing Element imperative to accommodate zoning to house our household growth, there is no way we can meet requirements for 3 acres per 1,000 persons for new parkland development (National recreation standard). Vacant land is unavailable--and to purchase the last would result in development fees that would create a barrier to all housing--not just affordable house. Urban, built-out cities need to have a General Plan parkland standard for urban development that gives an alternative to purchasing and developing traditional parks. It would be helpful if OPR would provide other ways (such as greenways--sidewalks and bikeways along parkways that link to existing parks and open space; roof decks, roof running tracks, bike lanes, walking/bike trails along flood control roads, hiking trails, etc...) that can be used to meet recreational parkland needs in a General Plan, short of providing actual parks.
La Palma	Not sure. I know very little about OPR. What types of assistance do you provide?
Larkspur	The resources we depend on the most are the General Plan guidelines and CEQA analyses and resources (particularly as relates to climate change).
Los Alamitos	We are a tiny City with very little money to spend on a lot of what this survey asks about.
Mono County	liaison with state agencies on planning matters, such as advocating for basic resource data (seismic studies, mineral resource data, flood hazard, sage grouse, deer migration, etc.)
Monrovia	By providing guidance, direction, and interpretation of State legislation regarding land use changes (e.g., model or draft ordinances related to the Massage Establishments (AB619)).
Morgan Hill	Better publicity.
Norco	Make the OPR website more user-friendly to find minimum legal requirements and guide documents.
Ontario	technical bulletins and training on timely issues
Oroville	Continue to pick up the phone when we can and answer our emails
Oxnard	Work with HCD on RHNA process, that it is not abused by cities and HCD backs off its unfunded mandates.
Palm Springs	Reduce state regulations
Red Bluff	Please don't email surveys out, no time
Redwood City	consolidate survey requests from different agencies into a standard format
Rio Vista	Assists the City to help expedite review of CEQA documents and take more efforts to simplify the CEQA process and expand and list of categorical exemptions.
Riverside	Continue their efforts
San Fernando	Advocate for additional grant funds for planning related activities.
San Juan Bautista	Technical assistant
San Luis Obispo	technical publications, best practices, highlight challenges to funding infrastructure.
San Rafael	Nothing more at this time.
Santa Ana	Not familiar with the regularly --scheduled OPR local government roundtables or special events. Being a resource for questions and directions, and sharing best practices. Email City planning departments more with best practice, planning documents, or projects to educate on timely regional issues.
Santa Barbara County	Clarification of newly adopted legislation and regulations; and options to comply or implement.
Sebastopol	Shorter survey next time. Grants for local planning. Simplified general plan content and update mandates. CEQA reform.

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Solana Beach	Keeping us informed of new and proposed legislation.
Tulare	keep guidelines up to date. publish a quarterly report
Turlock	Continue to provide guidance on implementation of new legislative and regulatory requirements. Provide tools that allow local agencies to respond to these new mandates.
Ventura County	1. Continue to develop guidelines for implementation for new/updated state-mandated legislation. 2. Quarterly/bi-annual e-newsletter on passing of pertinent legislation to Planning Departments.
Villa Park	more communication
Yountville	Design review guidelines shared from other communities would be helpful.

Q38. Are there particularly innovative and/or effective programs, policies, or zoning strategies in place in your jurisdiction that you would like to share with OPR and that were not covered in this survey?

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Butte County	Butte County Adopted a new Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance in November 2012 and major Amendments to the General Plan, some highlights of many: Military Planning Efforts and Policies in latest General Plan to address overflight areas. Unique Agriculture Overlay Zone to encourage agritourism and local AG businesses. Deer Herd Migration Overlay Zone, Public Housing Overlay Zone, Neal Road Recycling, Energy, and Waste Facility Overlay Zone (encourages joint use of waste diversion, energy development -solar, wind, landfill gas, business development, complimentary uses next to landfill) Zoning Administrator to hear lower level permit processes. A variety of new supplemental Use Regulations including Live/Work housing, Accessory Uses, Alternative Energy Structures (Wind and Solar) Winery, Olive Oil, Fruit and Nut, Micro-Brewery and Micro-Distillery Production Facilities New General Regulations including Clustered Development approaches in sensitive areas, Landscaping, Signs, Riparian Areas, and Outdoor Lighting
Coachella	A City-wide community facility district for public safety.
Emeryville	We are updating our municipal code -- Please see: http://emeryville.org/zoningupdate Public Art Ordinance: Private developers of non-residential buildings with building costs in excess of $300,000 allocate 1% of their building construction costs for public art; Private developers of residential projects over 20 units allocate .5% of their building construction costs for public art; The City must allocate 1.5 percent for municipal developments. Low Impact Development - onsite stormwater treatment for new development and redevelopment sites.
Escondido	Expedited processing in Business Enhancement zones Facade Improvement grant program
Hillsborough	Work towards creating Housing Element law that sets requirements on a more regional basis rather than by individual jurisdiction (i.e. emergency shelters as one example).
Inyo County	Through the Local Governments Partnership Program with Southern California Edison, Inyo County recently completed and adopted a Cost Energy and Service Efficiencies Action Plan. This Plan includes a Municipal Energy Action plan for County facilities. With the use of the Energy Star Portfolio Manager the County evaluated its facilities for energy use and set benchmarks. Through this process, the County identified projects, developed policies, and created an implementation strategy with a monitoring plan to reduce energy use at County facilities. The County has set an energy reduction goal of 10% by 2016 and will now evaluate remodel and new building projects with both mandatory and voluntary CalGreen Standards. When the long term cost benefits for using voluntary CalGreen Standards on building projects justifies the costs, the County will use them. County staff will also be very actively looking for programs and incentives to update its facilities with more energy efficient products and will be developing and maintaining a webpage for the community to find incentive programs for home energy reduction. Energy efficiency language is being developed for the General Plan and will be included in the update staff is presently working on.
La Mesa	Health & Wellness policies and activities
Livermore	City adopted updated Form-based Development Code in 2010.

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Mendota	Call me cynical, but innovative programs and strategies are for cities that can afford them. No one in a city with 40% unemployment cares about plug-in vehicles, and as a planner for just such a city, I don't care, either. What would work perfectly well for me would be a zoning ordinance that functions, a general plan that wasn't half-assed together by a consultant who was in a hurry, and for the state to help us focus on the little things instead of worrying about how a city of 10,000 farmworkers contributes to global warming. Help us with those things, and then I'll care about innovation.
Merced	The City recently adopted a Climate Action Plan...I might have missed that with my answers above. We are also doing a Local Hazard Mitigation Plan as well as a Revitalization Plan for a State Highway and a Community Plan for an area adjacent to the UC Merced Campus.
Mono County	We have combined zoning and general plan into a unified document for implementation efficiency and internal consistency
Ontario	airport land use compatibility planning implemented by local agency cooperative. healthy community initiatives. neighborhood planning.
Oxnard	Affordable Housing zoning necessitated by RHNA
Plumas County	Once GP update is completed there are policies to share
Redwood City	smart phone applications visualization tools
Riverside	Riverside's Green Action Plan / Emerald City Plan
San Diego	See General Plan Monitoring Report: http://www.sandiego.gov/planning/genplan/pdf/generalplan/gpm2011120521.pdf
San Francisco County	Pavement to Parks / Parklets program; EcoDistricts
San Gabriel	Greening the Code project underway - this is the first phase of a comprehensive zoning code update. Greening the Code will result in the adoption of code amendments that will promote green and low impact development practices.
Thousand Oaks	Thousand Oaks has a Green Business Certification Program (GBCP) that rewards small and medium sized businesses that demonstrate a substantial commitment to protect, preserve, and improve the environment above and beyond basic compliance. Businesses that meet the program's criteria will be certified as "green" businesses and marketed as such to the Thousand Oaks community.
Turlock	New General Plan establishes minimum densities for new master plan areas to ensure that San Joaquin Valley Blueprint densities are achieved

Q37. In what way(s) can OPR best assist your office in the work that it is doing?

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Angels Camp	I think OPR should do a better job of keeping local jurisdictions up to date with State legislation and its impact on our bottom line.
Auburn	For next year's survey, if you use the same questions as this year's survey, retain and provide for the responding jurisdictions use their answers to the prior year's survey. It could/would save time in completing the survey.
Azusa	Provide model ordinances that achieve State objectives in cases such as greenhouse gas emission reduction goals.
Banning	Laws that affect land use/environmental planning.
Bellflower	Provide better guidance for State Laws. Provide free webinars.
Benicia	Come meet with us to describe how we can be more competitive for grant funding
Burbank	Demonstrate support for projects, plans, programs, initiatives, etc. that cities are considering that advance the goals and policies had at the state level. For example, when City is considering adoption of a CAP or GGRP or event a GP update, OPR should show their support for the efforts of the local jurisdiction.
Butte County	Reduce need to send paper or CD copies and go electronic for all document distributions.
Calabasas	Please find ways to reduce the amount and complexity of state mandates affecting local governments, especially RHNA
Calaveras County	being available for 1 on 1 communication regarding an issue specific to our jurisdiction. OPR has done this for us in the past; VERY helpful
Coachella	Be an advocate for streamlining Housing Elements with HCD.
Colton	Highlight best practices in California (ordinances, general plan policies, specific plans, etc) for local governments to use as models.

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Commerce	Technical Advisories, training/special events, grant training and assistance
Cotati	Timely releases of information detailing legislative changes which affect land use, zoning and environmental regulations.
Dinuba	My above answers to Q. 36 are only in reference to the fact that I do not use OPR services on a regular basis. I cannot say whether the services are helpful or not.
Emeryville	Keep publishing great reference documents like State Planning and Zoning Laws, General Plan Guidelines, State CEQA Guidelines, etc. Provide easy summary of state level land use and CEQA updates that would be helpful for local jurisdictions, and make it easy to find on the website. Link state PV/solar goal to SB375/SCS goals.
Glendale	Here are three suggestions for OPR assistance/support for legislation. 1) We are looking forward to the 2013 General Plan Guidelines update. Glendale doesn't have money to do a comprehensive update to our General Plan and we lost 45% of Community Development Staff in September 2012. Our only choice to update our General Plan is by doing Community Plans that we can do in-house with limited resources. It would be VERY helpful to have guidance included in the General Plan Guidelines or through Planning Guides to talk about using Community Plans as tools for updating General Plans and by providing a list of free online resources that can be used. SCAG has some great information related to housing element updates--so a similar source of information for General Plan requirements by element would be very useful. 2) OPR can support the need for a CEQA statutory exemption for updating General Plans where density increases are necessary to comply with RHNA goals that includes exemptions for road widening infrastructure necessary to accommodate those units. We also need CEQA exemptions to implement CAP policies--such as green streets, road diets, creation of transportation streets and bike/ped streets, etc... necessary to implement SB 375. CEQA to comply with State mandates costs cities hundreds of thousands for special studies and environmental review. We just don't have public money to pay for CEQA review. Glendale wants to implement our CAP, Greener Glendale sustainability policies, TOD transportation improvements, and housing densities that allow us to meet RHNA and affordable housing goals. Cities need statutory exemptions in CEQA to allow us to adopt these policies and programs without spending a fortune in public money on CEQA review and CEQA challenges. 3) OPR support is also needed for identifying/creating some new recreational standards for parklands. Given the built-out nature of Glendale and other urban cities and the Housing Element imperative to accommodate zoning to house our household growth, there is no way we can meet requirements for 3 acres per 1,000 persons for new parkland development (National recreation standard). Vacant land is unavailable--and to purchase the last would result in development fees that would create a barrier to all housing--not just affordable house. Urban, built-out cities need to have a General Plan parkland standard for urban development that gives an alternative to purchasing and developing traditional parks. It would be helpful if OPR would provide other ways (such as greenways--sidewalks and bikeways along parkways that link to existing parks and open space; roof decks, roof running tracks, bike lanes, walking/bike trails along flood control roads, hiking trails, etc...) that can be used to meet recreational parkland needs in a General Plan, short of providing actual parks.
La Palma	Not sure. I know very little about OPR. What types of assistance do you provide?
Larkspur	The resources we depend on the most are the General Plan guidelines and CEQA analyses and resources (particularly as relates to climate change).
Los Alamitos	We are a tiny City with very little money to spend on a lot of what this survey asks about.
Mono County	liaison with state agencies on planning matters, such as advocating for basic resource data (seismic studies, mineral resource data, flood hazard, sage grouse, deer migration, etc.)
Monrovia	By providing guidance, direction, and interpretation of State legislation regarding land use changes (e.g., model or draft ordinances related to the Massage Establishments (AB619)).
Morgan Hill	Better publicity.
Norco	Make the OPR website more user-friendly to find minimum legal requirements and guide documents.
Ontario	technical bulletins and training on timely issues
Oroville	Continue to pick up the phone when we can and answer our emails
Oxnard	Work with HCD on RHNA process, that it is not abused by cities and HCD backs off its unfunded mandates.
Palm Springs	Reduce state regulations
Red Bluff	Please don't email surveys out, no time
Redwood City	consolidate survey requests from different agencies into a standard format
Rio Vista	Assists the City to help expedite review of CEQA documents and take more efforts to simplify the CEQA process and expand and list of categorical exemptions.
Riverside	Continue their efforts
San Fernando	Advocate for additional grant funds for planning related activities.
San Juan Bautista	Technical assistant

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
San Luis Obispo	technical publications, best practices, highlight challenges to funding infrastructure.
San Rafael	Nothing more at this time.
Santa Ana	Not familiar with the regularly –scheduled OPR local government roundtables or special events. Being a resource for questions and directions, and sharing best practices. Email City planning departments more with best practice, planning documents, or projects to educate on timely regional issues.
Santa Barbara County	Clarification of newly adopted legislation and regulations; and options to comply or implement.
Sebastopol	Shorter survey next time. Grants for local planning. Simplified general plan content and update mandates. CEQA reform.
Solana Beach	Keeping us informed of new and proposed legislation.
Tulare	keep guidelines up to date. publish a quarterly report
Turlock	Continue to provide guidance on implementation of new legislative and regulatory requirements. Provide tools that allow local agencies to respond to these new mandates.
Ventura County	1. Continue to develop guidelines for implementation for new/updated state-mandated legislation. 2. Quarterly/bi-annual e-newsletter on passing of pertinent legislation to Planning Departments.
Villa Park	more communication
Yountville	Design review guidelines shared from other communities would be helpful.

Q38. Are there particularly innovative and/or effective programs, policies, or zoning strategies in place in your jurisdiction that you would like to share with OPR and that were not covered in this survey?

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Butte County	Butte County Adopted a new Comprehensive Zoning Ordinance in November 2012 and major Amendments to the General Plan, some highlights of many: Military Planning Efforts and Policies in latest General Plan to address overflight areas. Unique Agriculture Overlay Zone to encourage agritourism and local AG businesses. Deer Herd Migration Overlay Zone, Public Housing Overlay Zone, Neal Road Recycling, Energy, and Waste Facility Overlay Zone (encourages joint use of waste diversion, energy development -solar, wind, landfill gas, business development, complimentary uses next to landfill) Zoning Administrator to hear lower level permit processes. A variety of new supplemental Use Regulations including Live/Work housing, Accessory Uses, Alternative Energy Structures (Wind and Solar) Winery, Olive Oil, Fruit and Nut, Micro-Brewery and Micro-Distillery Production Facilities New General Regulations including Clustered Development approaches in sensitive areas, Landscaping, Signs, Riparian Areas, and Outdoor Lighting
Coachella	A City-wide community facility district for public safety.
Emeryville	We are updating our municipal code -- Please see: http://emeryville.org/zoningupdate Public Art Ordinance: Private developers of non-residential buildings with building costs in excess of $300,000 allocate 1% of their building construction costs for public art; Private developers of residential projects over 20 units allocate .5% of their building construction costs for public art; The City must allocate 1.5 percent for municipal developments. Low Impact Development - onsite stormwater treatment for new development and redevelopment sites.
Escondido	Expedited processing in Business Enhancement zones Facade Improvement grant program
Hillsborough	Work towards creating Housing Element law that sets requirements on a more regional basis rather than by individual jurisdiction (i.e. emergency shelters as one example).

Jurisdiction	Open-Ended Response
Inyo County	Through the Local Governments Partnership Program with Southern California Edison, Inyo County recently completed and adopted a Cost Energy and Service Efficiencies Action Plan. This Plan includes a Municipal Energy Action plan for County facilities. With the use of the Energy Star Portfolio Manager the County evaluated its facilities for energy use and set benchmarks. Through this process, the County identified projects, developed policies, and created an implementation strategy with a monitoring plan to reduce energy use at County facilities. The County has set an energy reduction goal of 10% by 2016 and will now evaluate remodel and new building projects with both mandatory and voluntary CalGreen Standards. When the long term cost benefits for using voluntary CalGreen Standards on building projects justifies the costs, the County will use them. County staff will also be very actively looking for programs and incentives to update its facilities with more energy efficient products and will be developing and maintaining a webpage for the community to find incentive programs for home energy reduction. Energy efficiency language is being developed for the General Plan and will be included in the update staff is presently working on.
La Mesa	Health & Wellness policies and activities
Livermore	City adopted updated Form-based Development Code in 2010.
Mendota	Call me cynical, but innovative programs and strategies are for cities that can afford them. No one in a city with 40% unemployment cares about plug-in vehicles, and as a planner for just such a city, I don't care, either. What would work perfectly well for me would be a zoning ordinance that functions, a general plan that wasn't half-assed together by a consultant who was in a hurry, and for the state to help us focus on the little things instead of worrying about how a city of 10,000 farmworkers contributes to global warming. Help us with those things, and then I'll care about innovation.
Merced	The City recently adopted a Climate Action Plan...I might have missed that with my answers above. We are also doing a Local Hazard Mitigation Plan as well as a Revitalization Plan for a State Highway and a Community Plan for an area adjacent to the UC Merced Campus.
Mono County	We have combined zoning and general plan into a unified document for implementation efficiency and internal consistency
Ontario	airport land use compatibility planning implemented by local agency cooperative. healthy community initiatives. neighborhood planning.
Oxnard	Affordable Housing zoning necessitated by RHNA
Plumas County	Once GP update is completed there are policies to share
Redwood City	smart phone applications visualization tools
Riverside	Riverside's Green Action Plan / Emerald City Plan
San Diego	See General Plan Monitoring Report: http://www.sandiego.gov/planning/genplan/pdf/generalplan/gpm2011120521.pdf
San Francisco County	Pavement to Parks / Parklets program; EcoDistricts
San Gabriel	Greening the Code project underway - this is the first phase of a comprehensive zoning code update. Greening the Code will result in the adoption of code amendments that will promote green and low impact development practices.
Thousand Oaks	Thousand Oaks has a Green Business Certification Program (GBCP) that rewards small and medium sized businesses that demonstrate a substantial commitment to protect, preserve, and improve the environment above and beyond basic compliance. Businesses that meet the program's criteria will be certified as "green" businesses and marketed as such to the Thousand Oaks community.
Turlock	New General Plan establishes minimum densities for new master plan areas to ensure that San Joaquin Valley Blueprint densities are achieved

APPENDIX I: LIST OF RESPONDING JURISDICTIONS

Jurisdictions that Responded to the 2012 Annual Planning Survey

In 2012, a total of 258 of the 540 cities and counties (48%) in California completed the Annual Planning Survey. This includes 49 of the 58 counties (60%) and 229 of the 482 cities (48%). The results were provided by each individual jurisdiction and represent the jurisdiction's current, adopted policies and/or programs. Please contact the individual jurisdictions for more detailed information.

Land Use Planning

- Has your agency employed any of the following tools to promote infill, transit-oriented, mixed, or higher-density development?

	Employed for
	Infill	TOD	Mixed-Use	Higher density
Density bonuses
Reduced parking requirements
Specific Plan
Expedited permit processing
Financial incentives
General Plan policies
Other (specify)

2. How serious have the following barriers been to your jurisdiction's efforts to implement infill development?

	Not at all serious	Somewhat serious	Serious	Very serious	Not applicable
Public opposition
Infrastructure constraints
Lack of funding
Lack of interest in infill development
Regulatory constraints
Lot/Site issues
Hazardous materials or other site contamination
Other (please specify)

3. Has your jurisdiction adopted park and open space standards that include any of the following?

	Yes, in certain areas	Yes, across the jurisdiction	No	Don't know
Acreage standards
Proximity to residential areas
Standards for new development
Goal for park or open space area per resident
Tree canopy or tree planting standards
Guidelines for development of pocket parks
Guidelines for development of community gardens
Other (specify)

4. Has your jurisdiction adopted an Urban Forestry Management Plan?

	Yes
	No
	Don't know

4a. If yes, what year was that Urban Forestry Management Plan last updated/adopted? _____

4b. If yes, is the Urban Forestry Management Plan referenced in any of the following? (check all that apply)

	General Plan
	Specific Plan
	Local Hazard Mitigation Plan
	Climate Action Plan
	Tree Ordinance
	Other (specify)

5. Does your jurisdiction work with school districts to ensure that school siting, capital improvement decisions (including closures), and operational policies align with general plans, regional transportation plans (RTPs), sustainable communities strategies, or other local plans?

	Yes	No	Don't know
School siting
Capital improvement decisions
District operational policies

5a. If yes, how is that coordination accomplished (check all that apply)?

	Joint meetings of staff
	Joint meetings of elected boards

	Task forces or special committees
	Integration of policy documents
	Other (specify)

6. Does your jurisdiction have any of the following policies related to school siting and development?

	Yes, contained in General Plan	Yes, contained in separate policy	No	Don't know
Policies that encourage neighborhood schools (i.e., schools where the majority of students live in the immediate geographic area of the school)
Policies that prioritize school siting in infill or priority development areas
Policies that support schools in areas with safe pedestrian or bicycle access
Policies that support schools in infill or priority development areas
Policies that support rehabilitation of existing school facilities
Policies that support the joint use of school facilities
Other (specify)

7. Does your jurisdiction have any of the following health-related policies in place?

	In General Plan	Not in General Plan, but contained elsewhere	No such policies are in place
Policies that explicitly promote health equity

Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design
Joint-use of facilities (including parks or school-sites)
Smoke-free affordable housing
Create jobs that provide a living wage
Promote integration of affordable housing units into mixed-income neighborhoods
Support lifecycle housing or aging-in-place
Mitigate the urban heat island
Policies that explicitly reference health protection or promotion
Zoning that ensures grocery stores and/or fruit and vegetable vendors are accessible across your jurisdiction
Zoning that facilitates opportunities for local food production including urban or front/backyard farming and community gardens
Other (specify)

8. Does your jurisdiction undertake joint planning efforts in any of the following contexts?

	Yes, with tribal governments	Yes, with regional agencies	Yes, with state or federal agencies	No joint planning efforts are undertaken in this area
Infrastructure planning
Watershed planning
Habitat restoration
Integrated Regional Water Management (IRWM)
Transportation planning
Land use planning
Climate Action Planning

Other (specify)

Climate Change

9. Please indicate whether your jurisdiction is served by a public or investor-owned utility for the following services. (Check all that apply)

	Municipal Utility	Investor-owned utility	Special District	Other
Water delivery
Electricity

10. Has your jurisdiction adopted, or is it in the process of adopting policies and/or programs to reduce greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions?

	Yes, adopted
	Yes, in progress
	Under consideration
	Not at this time

- 10a. If yes, what form do these policies take? (Check all that apply)

	Climate Action Plan
	Sustainability Plan
	General Plan policies
	General Plan implementation measures
	GHG Emission Reduction Plan
	Ordinances
	Other (specify)

- 10b. If yes, do these policies address:

	Yes	No
Community emissions

Municipal emissions
---------------------	--	--

11. Is your jurisdiction actively addressing adaptation (i.e., preparing for the impacts of climate change)?

	Yes
	No
	Don't know

11a. If yes, what form do these actions take? (Check all that apply)

	Climate Action Plan
	General Plan Policies
	Stand-alone adaptation plan
	Local coastal plan
	Local hazard mitigation plan
	Part of regular planning efforts
	Other (specify)

12. If language related to climate change and GHG emissions had been included in your General Plan, please identify which elements discuss these issues. (Check all that apply)

	Land Use Element
	Housing Element
	Circulation Element
	Other optional element (specify)

	Open Space Element
	Safety Element
	Conservation Element
	Not addressed in our General Plan

13. Does your jurisdiction have measures in place to ensure the implementation of climate policies?

	Yes
	No

	Don't know
--	------------

13a. If yes, what form do these measures take? (Check all that apply)

	Project implementation checklist
	Inclusion in permit tracking software
	General Plan implementation plan
	Other (specify)

14. Is your jurisdiction working with other jurisdictions either to reduce GHG emissions (i.e., mitigation) or to plan for impacts of climate change (i.e., adaptation)?

	Yes, on mitigation
	Yes, on adaptation
	Yes, on mitigation and adaptation
	We are not working with other jurisdictions at this time

14a. If yes, please indicate what form this collaboration is taking. (check all that apply)

	Mitigation	Adaptation
Work with Metropolitan Planning Organization or Regional Planning Organization
Integrated Regional Water Management Plan
Regional climate change collaborative
Programs with water and energy utilities (municipal or private)
Other multi-jurisdiction planning effort (specify)

Renewable Energy and Energy Efficiency

Yes
No
Don't know

18. Has your jurisdiction adopted programs, policies, or ordinances to facilitate the development of small-scale renewable energy systems or distributed energy systems?

	Adopted	In development	Under Consideration	No
General plan policies
Wind permitting ordinance
